

1971

you would measure time
the measureless and immeasurable.
you would adjust your conduct and even direct
the course of your spirit according to hours and
seasons.
of time you would
make a stream
upon whose banks
you would sit
and watch its flowing.
kahlil gibran

to everything
there is a season
and a time
for every purpose
under heaven.

a time to be born,
a time to die . . .

a time to
weep,

a time to
laugh . . .

a time to
embrace,

a time to refrain
from embracing . . .

a time to
build up,

a time to
break down . . .

a
time
to
speak,

a time to keep silent . . .

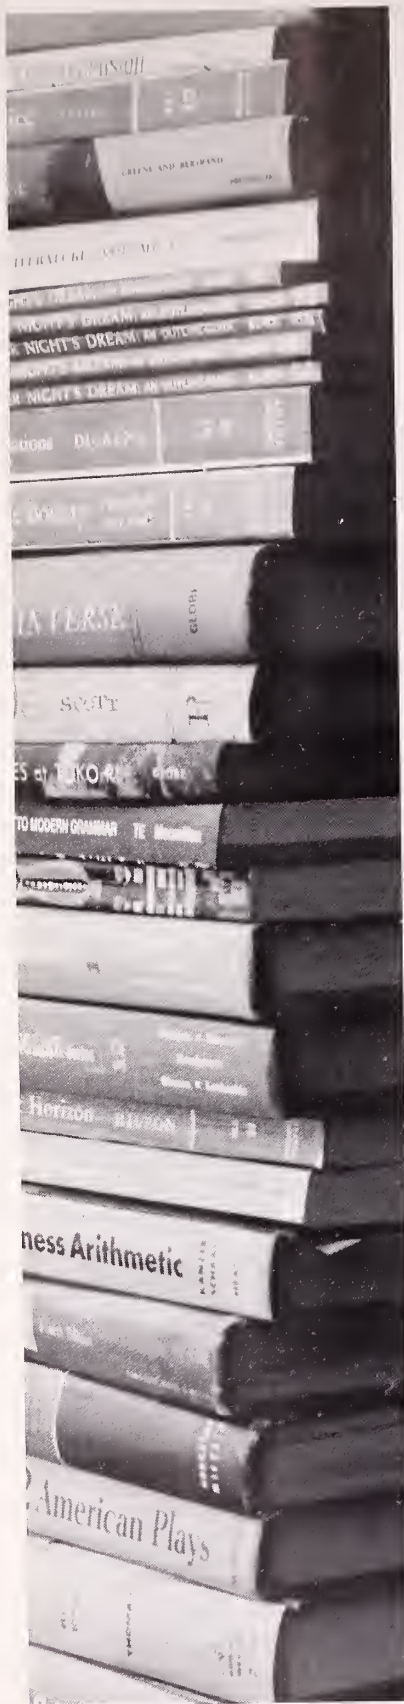

a time to remember . . .

forever.

yet the timeless in you is aware of life's timelessness and knows that yesterday is but today's memory
and tomorrow is today's dream.
and is not time even as love is,
undivided and paceless?
but if in your thoughts
you must measure time into seasons, let each season
encircle all other seasons, and let today embrace the past
with remembrance
and the future
with longing.
